

KOZA System in Japanese University

Koza system is made in Japan university. This system is very popular and become a heritage system.

KOZA (講座—教授) is a Japanese word literally meaning “lecture chair”. In a complete set consisted of:

- a full professor (KYOJU, 教授),
- an assistant professor (JOKYOJU, 助教授), and
- two research associates (JOSHU, 助教).

A KOZA 講座 constituted the minimal set of research groups under the strong leadership of the full professors. The number of KOZAs in the department or faculty is very important.
